

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Chapter 1 INTRODUCTION	1
§1.01 THE ROLE OF JEWISH LAW IN AN AMERICAN LAW SCHOOL	1
[A] Personal Importance to Religiously Committed Jewish Lawyers	2
[B] Importance to the Representation of Clients Committed to Jewish Law	2
[C] Comparative Law Concerns	3
[D] Religious Freedom	3
§1.02 WHAT JEWISH LAW IS — AND WHAT IT IS NOT	3
[A] Jewish Law Is a Full-Fledged Legal System	3
[B] What Jewish Law Is Not	5
§1.03 WHAT THIS BOOK IS — AND WHAT IT IS NOT	6
[A] What This Book Is	6
[B] What This Book Is Not	6
Chapter 2 FUNDAMENTAL JEWISH LAW ASSUMPTIONS	7
§ 2.01 INTRODUCTION TO JEWISH LAW’S FUNDAMENTAL ASSUMPTIONS	7
§ 2.02 THE ASSUMPTION THAT WRITTEN AND UNWRITTEN BODIES OF LAW WERE DIVINELY TRANSMITTED TO THE JEWISH PEOPLE	8
[A] The Written Law	8
[B] The Oral Law	8
[C] Divine Origin of the Torah	9
[D] Scholarly Debate Regarding Minor Exceptions	12
[E] Debate Regarding the “Documentary Hypothesis”	13
§ 2.03 MORAL OBLIGATION TO FULFILL GOD’S COMMANDMENTS	16
[A] The Assumption that God is Morally Perfect	17
[B] God’s Commandments Cannot Be Judged by One’s Own Sense of Morality	17
§ 2.04 BELIEF IN AN AFTERLIFE AND IN THE DOCTRINE OF REWARD AND PUNISHMENT	18
[A] Belief in an Afterlife	18
[B] Belief in the Doctrine of Reward and Punishment and Its Connection to the Afterlife	19
Chapter 3 RESPONSIBILITY FOR OTHERS	21
§ 3.01 CONTRASTING JEWISH AND SECULAR VIEWS AS TO ONE’S DUTIES TO OTHERS	21
[A] The Secular Approach	21
[B] The Jewish Law Approach	22
§ 3.02 JEWISH LAW DUTIES TO ASSIST OR RESCUE	23
[A] Duty to Return or Preserve Another’s Good Health	23
[B] Duty Not to Passively Witness Another’s Injury or Victimization	24
[C] Duty to Protect Someone from an Assailant	25

§ 3.03 RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE CONDUCT OF OTHERS	26
[A] Prohibitions Against Enabling or Assisting Others to Sin	28
[B] Enabling a Transgression: Lifnei Iver	29
[C] Facilitating a Transgression: Mesayeah	32
Chapter 4 CATEGORIES OF JEWISH LAW RULES	35
§ 4.01 OVERVIEW REGARDING THE TYPES OF JEWISH LAW RULES	35
§ 4.02 BIBLICAL VERSUS NON-BIBLICAL LAWS	35
[A] Biblical laws	35
[B] Rabbinic laws	36
[C] The Importance of Distinguishing Biblical from Rabbinic Rules	37
[1] A Rule's Type Matters when its Applicability is Uncertain	37
[2] Other Issues Depending on a Rule's Biblical or Non-Biblical Status	38
§ 4.03 AFFIRMATIVE (ACTIVE) VERSUS NEGATIVE (PASSIVE) OBLIGATIONS	39
[A] General Rules as to the Extent of One's Obligation	39
[B] Differentiating Positive from Negative Duties	39
§ 4.04 LAWS APPLICABLE TO NON-JEWS VERSUS LAWS APPLICABLE TO JEWS	41
Chapter 5 HUMAN AND INSTITUTIONAL AUTHORITIES	43
§ 5.01 INTRODUCTION	43
§ 5.02 MOSAIC ORDINATION (SEMIKHAH)	43
§ 5.03 TRIBAL PRINCES	44
§ 5.04 SUPREME COURT (SANHEDRIN HAGADOL)	44
§ 5.05 JUDGES (SHOFTIM)	46
§ 5.06 PROPHETS	46
§ 5.07 KINGS	48
§ 5.08 THE EXILARCHATE	49
§ 5.09 LATER RABBINIC AUTHORITIES	49
§ 5.10 CONTEMPORARY INSTITUTIONS	51
Chapter 6 JEWISH LAW LITERATURE	55
§ 6.01 INTRODUCTION	55
§ 6.02 RELATIVELY MODERN TEXTS	56
§ 6.03 EARLY JEWISH LAW LITERATURE	57
[A] The Sinaitic Revelation — the Written Torah and the Oral Torah	57
[1] What the Oral Law Does	58
[2] Why the Oral Law was Necessary	60
[3] Content of the Oral Torah	62
[B] Other Pre-Talmudic Legal Writings	64
[1] The Mishnah	64
[2] The Tosefta	66
[3] Halakhic Midrashim	66

[C] Talmudic Writings	67
[1] Debates Leading to the Two Talmuds	67
[2] Jerusalem and Babylonian Talmuds, Generally	67
[3] The Greater Authority of the Babylonian Talmud	68
[D] Post-Talmudic Jewish Law Literature	70
[1] The Gaonic Period	71
[2] The Period of the Rishonim	71
[3] The Period of the Aharonim	72
Chapter 7 SUPPLEMENTAL SOURCES OF JEWISH LAW	75
§ 7.01 INTRODUCTION	75
§ 7.02 PERSONAL CHOICE AS A SOURCE OF JEWISH LAW	76
§ 7.03 COMMUNAL CHOICE	76
[A] Community Custom as Law	76
[1] Expansive Scope of Custom as Law	77
[2] Limitations on the Legal Effectiveness of Customs	79
[B] Communal Abrogation of Law	81
§ 7.04 “THE LAW OF THE KINGDOM IS [RELIGIOUSLY] BINDING” (DINA DEMALKHUTA DINA)	82
[A] Sources for the Doctrine	82
[1] Implicit Agreement to Secular Law	82
[2] Implicit Acceptance Based on the King’s Right to Exile	83
[3] The King’s Power to Dispossess a Person of His or Her Property	83
[4] Right of Conquest	84
[5] A Consequence of the Noahide Commandment to Establish Law	84
[6] Specific Scriptural Source	84
[7] Inherent in the Torah-Recognized Institution of a King	85
[B] Practical Application of the Doctrine	85
Chapter 8 EXTRAORDINARY SOURCES OF LAW: THE EXAMPLE OF CAPITAL PUNISHMENT	89
§ 8.01 INTRODUCTION	89
§ 8.01 CAPITAL PUNISHMENT BY RABBINIC COURTS — UNDER ORDINARY RULES	89
[A] Prerequisites for Imposing Capital Punishment	90
[B] Feasibility of Such Prerequisites	91
§ 8.02 A RABBINIC COURT’S EXTRAORDINARY POWERS	93
[A] As to an Individual Wrongdoer	93
[B] “When the Times Require It”	95
§ 8.03 THE POWER OF A JEWISH KING	97

Chapter 9 PERSPECTIVES ON THE UNFOLDING OF JEWISH LAW	97
§ 9.01 INTRODUCTION	99
§ 9.02 THE “LITERALIST VIEW”	99
§ 9.03 THE “A PRIORI VIEW”	101
§ 9.04 THE “AGENCY VIEW”	101
§ 9.05 A HYBRID OF THE “A PRIORI” AND “AGENCY” VIEWS	103
§ 9.06 THE “ACCUMULATIVE APPROACH”	103
§ 9.07 THE DEVELOPMENT OF NON-BIBLICAL LAW	104
Chapter 10 THE DEVELOPMENT OF JEWISH LAW	107
§ 10.01 INTRODUCTION	107
§ 10.02 PROHIBITIONS ON ADDING OR SUBTRACTING FROM THE TORAH	107
§ 10.03 ROLE OF HUMAN BEINGS IN THE JEWISH LAW PROCESS	108
[A] The Torah is “Not in Heaven”	109
[B] “Safeguarding” the Oral Law by Putting Much of it in Writing	110
[C] Human Autonomy As to the Interpretation and Creation of Jewish Law	111
[1] Historical Autonomy in Interpreting the Law	112
[2] Historical Flexibility in Applying the Law	115
[3] Historical Flexibility in Making the Law	115
[4] How Modernity Affects Autonomy	120
Chapter 11 PERSONAL AUTONOMY & DA’AT TORAH	127
§ 11.01 PERSONAL AUTONOMY & THE BROAD C COMMANDMENT TO “BE HOLY”	127
§ 11.02 THE “TORAH WAY” (DA’AT TORAH)	128
[A] The Expansive View of Da’at Torah	129
[B] Problems with the Absolutist View of Da’at Torah	131
[C] Competing Views of Da’at Torah	132
[1] Suggested Limitations on Da’at Torah	132
[2] Who Has the Authority to Declare Da’at Torah	133
[3] The Process by which Da’at Torah is Determined	133
[D] Possible “New Wrinkles” Regarding Da’at Torah	134
Chapter 12 ILLUSTRATIVE EXAMPLES OF JEWISH LAW INNOVATIONS	137
§ 12.01 INTRODUCTION: MOST JEWISH LAWS ARE NON-BIBLICAL	137
§ 12.02 INNOVATIONS PRIOR TO THE CLOSING OF THE BABYLONIAN TALMUD	138
[A] Marketplace Regulation	139
[B] Developments Designed to Promote Societal Peace	141
[C] Family Law Innovations	142
[D] Miscellaneous Developments	146
§ 12.03 INNOVATIONS AFTER THE CLOSING OF THE BABYLONIAN TALMUD	147

[A] Family Law Issues	147
[B] A Long History of Innovation Regarding Interest Bearing Loans	148
Chapter 13 IMPORTANCE OF LIFE	155
§ 13.01 INTRODUCTION	155
§ 13.02 A PERSON AS THE CREATOR’S “BAILEE”	155
§ 13.02 THE IMMEASURABLY GREAT VALUE OF EACH LIFE	156
§ 13.03 LEGAL IMPLICATIONS	157
[A] Obligation to Protect Oneself from Harm and to Preserve One’s Life	157
[1] Spending Money to Save Life	158
[2] Transgressing Jewish Law to Save Life	159
[B] The Prohibition Against Suicide	160
[C] The Proscription Against Murder	162
Chapter 14 JEWISH AND SECULAR DEBTOR-CREDITOR AND BANKRUPTCY LAW	165
§ 14.01 INTRODUCTION	165
§ 14.02 AMERICAN AND JEWISH PERSPECTIVES ON THE DUTY TO PAY DEBTS	166
[A] American View of Contract Versus Non-Contract Debts	166
[1] No Moral Wrong in Breaching Contract	166
[2] A Tortfeasor is a Wrongdoer	168
[3] Possible Connection to American Bankruptcy Law	168
[B] Jewish Law View of Contract Obligations	169
§ 14.03 JEWISH LAW PROTECTIONS	171
[A] Protections, Generally	171
[B] No Equivalent to a Bankruptcy Discharge Law	171
§ 14.04 INTERRELATIONSHIPS BETWEEN AMERICAN BANKRUPTCY LAW AND JEWISH LAW	173
[A] American Bankruptcy Law Benefits to Debtors	173
[B] Bankruptcy Law and Jewish Law’s Doctrine of Commercial Custom (Minhag Hasoharim)	175
[C] Bankruptcy Law and the “Law of the Kingdom is [Religiously] Valid Law” (Dina Demalkhuta Dina)	178
[1] American Bankruptcy Law and R. Isserles’ View of Dina Demalkhuta Dina	178
[2] Does Jewish Law Recognize the Automatic Stay?	182
[D] An Unintended Interaction: Bankruptcy Law and the Jewish Doctrine of Yeush	183
§ 14.05 SUMMARY AND CONCLUSION	185
Chapter 15 PROFESSIONAL ETHICS AND JEWISH LAW: LAWYERING	187
§ 15.01 INTRODUCTION	187
§ 15.02 JEWISH LAW’S REJECTION OF ROLE DIFFERENTIATED MORALITY	188
§ 15.03 JEWISH LAW PRINCIPLES APPLYING TO THE PRACTICE OF LAW	189

§ 15.04 HELPING A CLIENT ACCOMPLISH AN OBJECTIVE THAT IS IMPROPER UNDER JEWISH LAW	191
[A] Profanation of God's Name (hillul HaShem)	192
[B] Harming Another Person	193
[C] Associating with a Wrongdoer	193
[D] Encouraging Wrongdoers	194
[E] The Enabling Prohibition (Lifnei Iver)	194
[F] Miscellaneous Prohibitions	198
§ 15.05 JEWISH LAW LIMITS ON PERMISSIBLE MEANS	199
§ 15.06 IMPACT OF JEWISH LAW ON CLIENT CONFIDENTIALITY	200
Chapter 16 ALTERNATIVE DISPUTE RESOLUTION AND JEWISH LAW	203
§ 16.01 INTRODUCTION	203
§ 16.02 RESTRICTIONS ON RESORT TO NON-JEWISH COURTS	204
§ 16.03 SECULAR LAW'S ALTERNATIVE DISPUTE OPTIONS	206
§ 16.04 JEWISH LAW AND SECULAR ALTERNATIVE DISPUTE OPTIONS	207
§ 16.05 RABBINIC COURT PROCEEDING	207
[A] Initiation of a Rabbinic Court Proceeding	208
[B] Enforcing a Rabbinic Court Judgment	208
[C] Types of Rabbinic Court Judgments	209
§ 16.06 INTERNET RESOURCES REGARDING RABBINIC COURTS	210
Appendix 1 Glossary	213
Appendix 2 Selected List of Post-Talmudic Jewish Law Scholars & Scholarship	229
Appendix 3 Transliterations	241
Appendix 4 Internet Resources on Jewish Law	245
Appendix 5 Jewish Law Resources (Non-Internet) for Study of The Mishnah, Talmuds, Mishneh Torah and Shulhan Arukh	255
Appendix 6 Selected Bibliography of Books & Journals in English	261
Appendix 7 Brief Outline of the Development of Jewish Law Literature	271
Appendix 8 A Brief Chart of Jewish Legal and National History	279
Appendix 9 Jewish Scripture	283
Index	I-1